

Summary

Regressive autism, ileal-lymphoid nodular hyperplasia, measles virus, and MMR vaccine: summary of published studies offering evidence for linkages

David Thrower

Email: David.Throwerwarrington@ntlworld.com

Abstract

This note summarizes clinical evidence for the link between (1) autism and a novel form of inflammatory bowel disease; (2) inflammatory bowel disease and measles virus; and (3) measles virus and vaccination with MMR. Also some of the other wider safety concerns over MMR are considered.

© Copyright 2007 Pearblossom Private School, Inc. All rights reserved.

Keywords: regressive autism, ileal-lymphoid nodular hyperplasia, measles virus, MMR vaccine